The Dark Side of Travel: Bone-Chilling Tales from Around the World

Travel isn't always about sunny beaches and breathtaking views—sometimes, it leads to terrifying encounters, haunted destinations, and spine-chilling urban legends.

Inspired by the eerie storytelling of DarkBox Comics, we've gathered some of the most horrifying travel tales that will make you think twice before booking your next trip.

---

1. The Ghosts of Thailand's Abandoned Hotels

Thailand is famous for its beautiful resorts—but some are better left unexplored.

🔹 The Haunting of Sathorn Unique Tower (Bangkok)

- A 49-story skyscraper abandoned mid-construction after the 1997 financial crash.
- Locals claim to hear whispers, footsteps, and screams from inside.
- Some visitors who've snuck in never returned.

📌 Planning a trip? Maybe stick to the tourist sites instead...

---

2. Vietnam's Cursed "Suicide Bridge"

The Long Bien Bridge (Hanoi) has a dark history:
✓ Built by French colonists, thousands of workers died during construction.
✓ Locals report shadowy figures pushing people off at night.
✓ Some claim to see ghostly workers still repairing the bridge.

📌 If you're brave enough to visit, make sure your travel docs are in order... just in case.

---

3. Turkey's Underground City of the Dead

Derinkuyu (Cappadocia) isn't just an ancient wonder—it's haunted.

- An 18-level underground city where people mysteriously vanished.
- Tour guides report cold spots, disembodied voices, and ghostly figures in the tunnels.
- Some say the spirits trap visitors who wander too deep.

📌 Better secure your e-visa before exploring... if you dare.

---

4. Sri Lanka's Demon-Filled Ruins

The Yaksha legends of Sri Lanka speak of demons guarding ancient ruins.
✓ Sigiriya Rock Fortress – Said to be cursed by a vengeful king's spirit.
✓ Visitors report unexplained scratches, sudden chills, and visions of shadowy figures.
✓ Some claim to hear chanting in dead languages at midnight.

📌 If you're heading there, at least get your visa approval first—demons won't check your passport.

---

5. Cambodia's Killing Fields Ghosts

The Choeung Ek Genocidal Center (Phnom Penh) is one of the most haunted places on Earth.

- Thousands were executed here during the Khmer Rouge regime.
- Visitors report crying sounds, phantom footsteps, and ghostly apparitions.
- Some say the spirits follow travelers home.

📌 Before visiting, make sure your e-visa is approved—you don't want any extra "passengers" on your return flight.

---

6. Malaysia's Cursed Highland Resort

The Pines Resort (Genting Highlands) was abandoned after tragic deaths.
✓ A mysterious fire killed multiple guests in the 1980s.
✓ Security guards report bloodstains reappearing on walls.
✓ Some guests check in... but never check out.

📌 If you're still keen on Malaysia, at least get your e-visa safely online.

---

Final Warning: Travel at Your Own Risk

These stories prove that some destinations come with more than just sightseeing.

🚨 Before you go:
✓ Research haunted histories
✓ Avoid abandoned buildings at night
✓ And most importantly—get your e-visas legally... unless you want to deal with real-life horrors at immigration!